LO: To associate our feelings with colours.

Today we read 'The Colour Monster' by Anna Llenas. Before we read the book we talked about the different feelings we can have. We thought about how colours can be associated with different feelings. Then we predicted which colours might match each feeling. After reading the book, we discussed why different colours might be associated with different feelings. We also talked about how our faces and body language might look when we are feeling different ways and practised acting out different feelings as a class. Then we completed the task below.

Can you choose a colour to represent each emotion?
